Tim Green

St. Thomas

Green was a big reason why the Saints were as good as they were this year. He was the leader of the defense and a very smart player that held the team together in close games.

"He was an unbelievable sweeper," St. Thomas coach Ed Devereaux said. "He was the backbone of the defense. He was very smart, he knew the game, and he was aggressive."

Green tackled well and supported the people in front of him the way a good sweeper should. The senior was a Class I second-team selection
